

News Release

Contact:

Sharon Derry

314.772.9592

inquire@secretleaves.com

<http://www.secretleaves.com>

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

November 12, 2009

St. Louis-based Secret Leaves paperworks featured in new book on creative reuse

St. Louis, MO, November 12, 2009 – St. Louis paper arts studio, Secret Leaves paperworks, is featured in a newly released book, 1000 Ideas for Creative Reuse, published by Rockport, a publisher of graphic design, architecture and interior design books.

1000 Ideas for Creative Reuse, the latest in Rockport's excellent 1000 series, amasses a cutting-edge collection of products and art pieces that have been cleverly crafted from recycled materials. Projects range from small-scale functional items to large-scale works of art, including paper arts, clothing, jewelry, house goods, interiors and installations. The Scrap Journal, a perennial Secret Leaves favorite, scored a full page in the book.

1000 Ideas for Creative Reuse hit bookstores on November 1, 2009 and can be purchased at Amazon, Barnes & Noble, Borders and other fine bookstores.

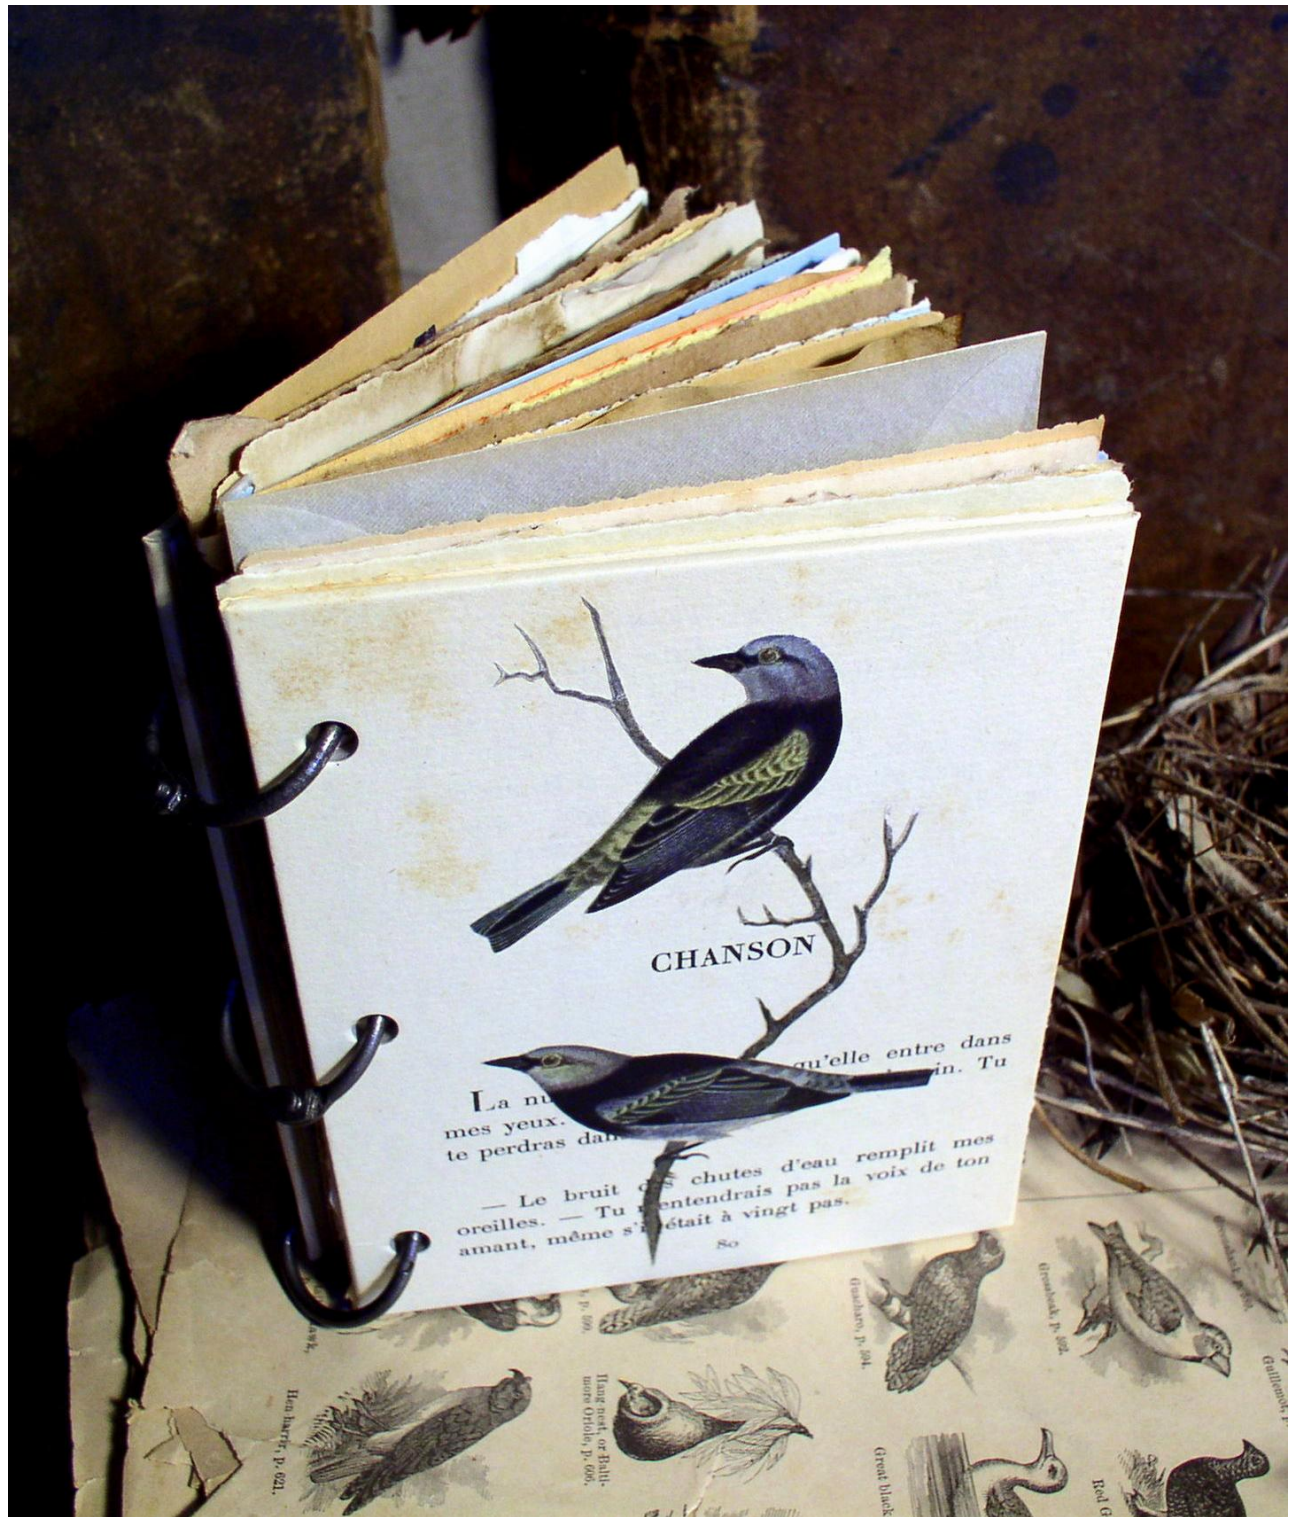

Secret Leaves paper goods are made from recycled and reclaimed vintage ephemera, including sheet music, pages from old books, hand-written notes, maps, postcards and more, some dating back to the mid-1800s. The majority are made by hand and all are of original design.

For additional information on this story or Secret Leaves products, contact Sharon Derry or visit www.secretleaves.com.

* * *

Secret Leaves paperworks, a paper arts studio in St. Louis, Missouri, handcrafts beautiful things from paper. Using real vintage materials, meticulous craftsmanship and attention to the smallest detail they create eco-friendly journals, albums, greeting cards and gift enclosures that are evocative of the past and poised to be appreciated by future generations.

###

SECRET LEAVES
paperworks

WWW.SECRETLEAVES.COM